NEW R

Dear Customer:

In growing roses for thirty-two years, it has been our aim to give you the best service and to supply excellent stock. We welcome your letters with constructive suggestions.

Our field of roses is beautiful now, 250,000 of them, all a mass of bloom on large husky plants. We are proud of our stock and unhesitatingly guarantee every plant to grow and bloom or replacements will be sent without charge.

As we are members of the All America Rose Selections and are also testing for European hybridizers, we are able to select from these the very finest varieties. We know you will want the thrill of growing some of them in your own garden.

We shall appreciate early orders as there is a limited supply of some of the varieties.

Thanking you for past favors and wishing you happy gardening, we are

Cordially yours,

Clyde + Ramona Steeking

Starfire

STARFIRE (Lammerts '58)

$3.50 each, 3 for $9.20

This bright currant red rose will produce quantities of bloom singly and in clusters on a shapely rounded plant. The individual urn shaped buds are of moderate size and of nice shape and form for cutting. Starfire holds its luminescent color well and has good disease resistant bronzy green foliage. It is the AARS grandiflora winner for 1958! (P.R.R.)

PINK PEACE (Meiland '58)

$3.00 each, 3 for $7.95

A tall, sturdy plant with heavy foliage that produces quantities of large blooms generally borne singly on long stems that are ideal for cutting. The deep rich pink buds are double and the fully opened flower is very graceful with its wavy petals that cover the stamens. The edge of each petal is delicately pencilled in cream. Holds its color very well and has a haunting mild fragrance. Not recommended in areas where rust is a problem. (P.R.R.)

ROSES FOR '59

IVORY FASHION (Boerner '58) $2.75 each, 3 for $7.20

The 1958 AARS floribunda winner has a lovely high centered flower of a soft ivory shade that spirals slowly open from its long, slender bud to a three to four inch clear ivory bloom and a nest of golden stamens. Flowers are borne in large clusters on a sturdy plant that is very disease resistant. Excellent for cutting. (Plant Pat. 1688.)

KORDES PERFECTA (Kordes '58) $3.50 each, 3 for $9.20

An exciting new exhibition rose with an excellent European reputation. Perfecta's petals are blends of pink and cream-white edged in carmine with undertones of yellow at the heart of the flower that unfolds slowly and symmetrically to a very double full bloom of 50-80 petals. Buds are often not attractive for it is the half and fully opened blooms that are so glorious. Long lasting as a cut flower and on the bush. Plants have disease resistant foliage and are strong growers sending up heavy candelabra canes. Pleasant fragrance. Although it has been magnificent in our fields this spring, we are uncertain as to how well it will do generally in California. We recommend that you do not feed it too heavily. (Plant Pat. 1604.)

TAPESTRY (Fisher '58) $3.00 each, 3 for $7.95

A riotous blend of colors that succeed one another from bud to fully opened flower in a carefully blended tapestry. The orange to yellow buds are tinged with red. As the flower fully opens to a large peony type bloom, the colors melt into one another with a pinkish tone. A very colorful low growing variety with fine glossy foliage and spicy fragrance. We will sell out early on this one as our supply is limited. (P.R.R.)

PLANTING AND CULTURAL HINTS

Open package as soon as received. If the roots are moist the plants may be planted at once. If, however, they appear dry, soak in water over night, and bury in a trench. Cover with earth and soak thoroughly. In three or four days the bushes will be ready to plant.

Cut off all bruised or broken roots with a sharp knife.

Loosen all labels, so as not to cut into plant.

Select a location free of tree or shrub roots, and exposed to at least half a day of sun.

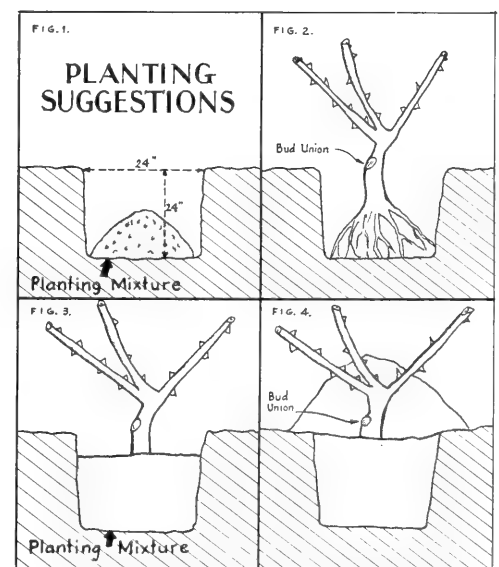

Dig a hole 18" to 24" in depth and width. If soil does not have good drainage, a gravel drain should be provided.

A mixture of 10% peat, 10% rotted manure, 5% alfalfa leaf meal or compost mixed thoroughly with 75% top soil, will give excellent results. If drainage is poor, do not use manure.

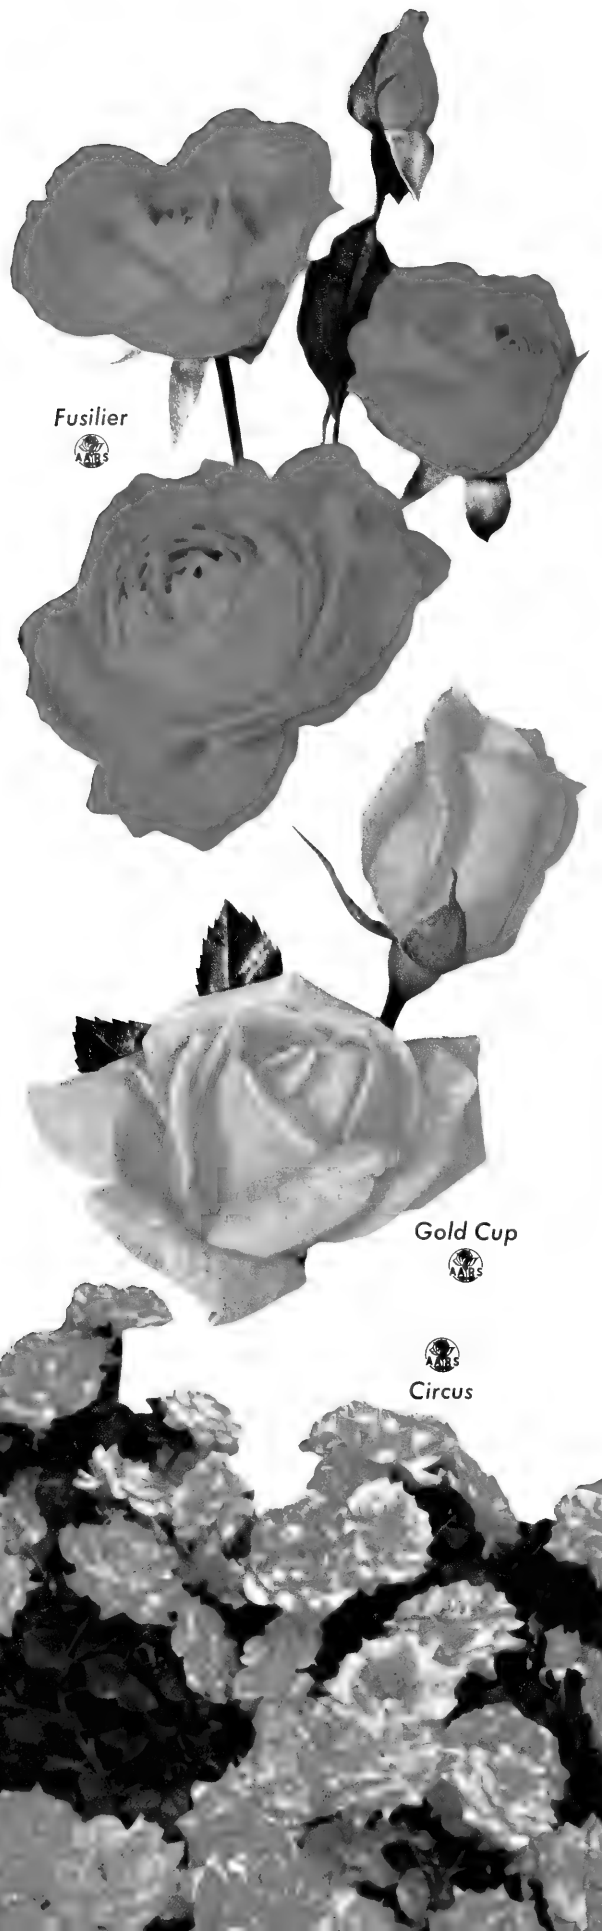

Fill the hole half full of the mixture and firm well. Make a cone-shaped mound in center of hole, Fig. 1. Place crown of roots on cone, spreading roots, Fig. 2. Fill in above roots with soil and fill basin twice with water, Fig. 3. After water has settled, remainder of soil may be filled in, making sure the bud union is level or slightly above the level of the ground. In colder regions the bud union should be 2 inches below the surface of the ground. Mound soil temporarily four or five inches above the bud union to prevent the plant from being dried out by wind, frost heaves, etc., before the new feeding roots are well established. When growth starts, the soil should be removed to just below the bud union. Fig. 4.

All plants are pruned, ready for planting when you receive them. Keep plants well watered all during the growing season.

Should you find a plant that is slower than the others in leafing out, make a frame around it and fill with sopping wet peat practically covering the entire plant. Usually this will bring the plant into full leaf within 10 to 15 days.

Polyantha are the small roses usually produced in clusters and commonly called "Baby Roses." Floribunda is a new classification of the larger flowering varieties of the polyanthas which are becoming more popular. They are most effectively used in mass plantings along driveways, walls or for border planting, etc. Floribundas come in a wide range of colors and produce a mass of color over a long period of time. All of those listed are quite free of disease.

CLIMBING

Cl. Queen Elizabeth

See pages 8 and 9 for complete listing of varieties.

Cl. Red Empress

Climbers are ideal for a large splash of color on a trellis, a wall, or for covering a fence. Many of them will give you repeat bloom throughout the summer and fall, but nothing like the heavy spring bloom. Ordinarily climbers do not bloom the first year as the blossoms are borne on wood that is two years old. Cutting the dead blossoms off and leaving three to four leaves, as you do on bush roses, will aid in giving better repeat bloom. Climbers should not be pruned the first year in the garden. Pruning may start their second or third year and consists of removing several of the older and woodier canes. You will get more bloom if the canes are trained so that they are parallel with the ground.

CL. BLAZE $1.75 each, 3 for $4.65

A spectacular climber that is similar to the popular Paul's Scarlet but is more recurrent in bloom. The cup-shaped blazing scarlet blooms are borne in clusters on a dark, leathery foliage plant that is generally disease resistant.

CL. CARROUSEL $2.50 each, 3 for $6.60

A sport of the very attractive bush rose that should make an excellent climber, producing quantities of its rich red flowers that are so fine for cutting. P.R.R.

CL. CECILE BRUNNER $1.75 each, 3 for $4.65

A strong growing climber which produces quantities of small, beautifully formed buds. The flowers are a light pink with yellow at the base of the petals. The small, soft green foliage is quite compact, forming an interesting background for the masses of pink buds and flowers.

CL. CHARLOTTE ARMSTRONG $2.50 each, 3 for $6.60

Truly a colorful sight when in full bloom with its masses of deep pink flowers. It is a strong grower and repeats well. (Plant Pat. 523.)

CL. CHRYSLER IMPERIAL $2.75 each, 3 for $7.20

An eye-catching climber with its huge, red, fragrant blooms. It has excellent long, heavy canes. (Plant Pat. 1528.)

CL. ETOILE DE HOLLANDE $1.75 each, 3 for $4.65

A climbing sport of one of our best red roses. This beautiful dark, velvety maroon red seldom blues. Its great abundance of fragrant blooms are excellent for cutting. Often the growth is slow the first year, after that it is a very vigorous grower with plenty of heavy disease-resistant foliage.

CL. GOLDEN SHOWERS (Lammerts '55)

$2.75 each, 3 for $7.20

A pillar type yellow climber of spectacular color. The medium sized buds are a bright golden yellow, usually borne singly, which lighten when open, giving forth a mild fragrance. The rich green foliage appears to be resistant to the usual rose diseases. The continuous blooming habit through the summer produces quantities of flowers for cutting. (Plant Pat. 704.)

CL. MERMAID $2.00 each, 3 for $5.25

Beautiful pale sulfur-yellow single flowers borne in clusters with amber stamens. Foliage is a deep glossy green that is disease proof. Excellent as a ground cover.

We unhesitatingly recommend this as one of the very finest climbers. Its striking coppery-pink to salmon-pink blooms are produced incessantly throughout the season. The buds open to very full, double flowers of good fragrance. The plants are very vigorous and covered with an abundance of glossy green foliage which is a spectacular reddish-green when young.

CL. PEACE $2.25 each, 3 for $6.00

The golden yellow buds flushed pink at the edges open slowly into large, ruffled blooms of pale yellow to cream with tinges of pink. The plants are as remarkable as the blooms with their strong stems, shining dark green foliage and vigor. Repeat bloom is fine. (Plant Pat. 932.)
